Focused on quality over quantity, FutureVision is where technology visionaries present their perspectives to CE Suppliers and Retail/Etail leaders in a reflective and intimate networking setting. It's about getting away from the upcoming budget cycle to think strategically and with a fresh outlook about trends that will make an impact on the industry.

This exclusive format allows retailers to listen to and connect with industry visionaries and elite manufacturers — through exceptional business meetings and information-sharing sessions. It's an opportunity to shape the future of consumer electronics retailing, and it provides manufacturers with an unmatched networking environment and guaranteed return on investment.
